CDM Opens New Times Microwave Systems Distribution Center at Branch Office in Richardson, Texas

CDM Electronics today announced the opening of a full-service Times Microwave Systems products distribution center at their new Richardson, Texas location. The new fully stocked, 6400 square-foot distribution center now serves as CDM's Midwest regional service hub from which orders for Times' coaxial cable, connectors and accessories will be fulfilled. CDM's fully staffed 2-bay warehouse and dedicated customer service department is outfitted with the latest generation of inventory management equipment, computers and communications tools designed to maximize productivity and optimize the CDM customer experience. "Adding a Times Microwave distribution hub to our larger, state-of-the-art facility in Richardson shows CDM's commitment to providing service and support to our regional customer base" stated Bill Almon, CDM's Vice President of Sales and Marketing, "along with being prepared for future programs." CDM inventories a comprehensive offering of Times Microwave Systems products at Richardson including over 100,000 feet of LMR® series low-loss coaxial cables and over 43,000 connectors and accessories for aerospace, telecom and medical applications. In-stock products will ship the same day as their order is received, or customers can elect to pick up their order onsite. The new distribution facility is located at 750 International Parkway, Suite 130, Richardson, TX.
